Amended and Approved at the Tenth Meeting of the Administrative Council on July 7, 2011
Amended and Approved at the Second Meeting of the Administrative Council on Oct. 4, 2012
Amended and Approved at the First Meeting of the Administrative Council on Sept. 5, 2013

- I. Objective: The scholarship is established in concert with government policies to enhance the recruitment of international students and to increase the enrollment of outstanding international students in the FJU undergraduate and master's degree programs.
- II. Eligibility Criteria
  1. Applicants must be prospective students and must have submitted a formal application to enroll in an undergraduate or master's program at the University in accordance with the regulations outlined in the Admission Brochure for International Students of Fu Jen Catholic University.
  2. Applicants must not be in receipt of any other scholarships or financial aid.
- III. Recipient Quota: The number of scholarship recipients for each academic year shall be determined by the amount of university budget available for the academic year.
- IV. Application Period: Same as the period for online admissions application as indicated in the Admission Brochure for International Students of Fu Jen Catholic University.
- V. Application Documents
  1. One copy of the application form.
  2. Other supplementary documents, such as Chinese or English language proficiency test scores, proof of awards from international competitions, and/or proof of works published. Please provide Chinese or English translations of any documents written in other languages.
- VI. Scholarship Amount and Disbursement: Recipients are entitled to receive scholarship funds for four consecutive semesters, at a total of NT$50,000 per semester. After the recipient has formally registered for the semester, the funds shall be disbursed in monthly installments of NT$10,000.

VII. Scholarship Disqualification: The following events will result in forfeiture of the scholarship.

1. The recipient fails to complete registration before the required deadline, withdraws or is expelled from the University, or is given a demerit for gross misconduct.
2. The recipient fails to complete the required number of credits in the semester for which the scholarship is awarded. Undergraduate students in undergraduate degree programs must fulfill the credit requirements outlined in the FJU Course Selection Regulations. First-year master's degree students must complete a minimum of six credits per semester, while second-year students must complete a minimum of three credits per semester.
3. The recipient fails to achieve the minimum required grade average for two consecutive semesters; undergraduate degree students must maintain a minimum grade average of 70%, while master's degree students must maintain a minimum grade average of 80%.
4. The recipient is absent for more than one-fifth of the total number of course hours for all registered classes.

VIII. Recipient Selection and Notification Process: Applications shall be received by the International Student Center (ISC) of the Office of International Education (OIE) for processing and preliminary screening. After the ISC completes preliminary screening, candidates shall be evaluated by the FJU International Academic Exchange Examining Committee and the list of recipients finalized. Upon final approval, recipients will receive their acceptance letter from the University and a scholarship award notification.

IX. The University may arrange for scholarship recipients to engage in volunteer work, such as mentoring other international students, sharing of academic experiences, participating in cross-cultural seminars, or helping to create a bilingual campus.

X. These regulations have been approved by the Administrative Council and the University President. Any amendments shall follow the same procedure.
